

Gratitude & Positive Activity Log

Greater Nashua Mental Health Center

Instructions: Regularly noticing good moments and doing pleasant or meaningful activities (behavioral activation) counteracts the negativity bias and lifts mood over time. Aim for specifics — small and genuine beats big and forced.

Daily gratitude

Each day, write three specific things you're grateful for and why they mattered.

Day	Three good things (and why they mattered)

Positive activity log

Plan and rate pleasant or meaningful activities. Note mood before and after (0–10).

Activity	Planned day	Mood before	Mood after

Which activities lifted my mood most? When can I do more of them?
